SCHOOL UNIFICATION STUDY FIZZLES HERE

Trustees of five local school districts will decide by next week whether they want to drop or continue the unification study, authorized early this year by the county after a handful of citizens petitioned for the survey.

Garden Village Students Await VACATION

Approximately 600 children at Garden Village school will be on vacation next week. The school is closed for the week of December 1 through 5.

The PTA unit, headed by Mrs. Kenneth Gillespie, and Civil Defense Chair- Mrs. H. Clifford Warner, assisted by parents, police leaders and "observers" from other cities.

The purpose of the "dry run" exercise will be to test the effectiveness and readiness of children and their supervisors in executing disaster routes and procedures.

Gillespie says that this is the first such drill of its kind in the district, and that it is "to my knowledge" the first in the city and "maybe even in San Mateo County."

The children, in Tuesday's exercise, will not actually leave school when the yellow alarm is sounded, though they will be in the school yard and are to enter the 150-vehicle parade which, in real disaster situations, would be ready to transport them down the Peninsula to Woodside.

Parents of the children will be the transportation. Tuesday, however, this exercise will be postponed to the following Tuesday at the same time.

Warner said: "That we are doing here at Garden Village School is being met with a great deal of interest by Civil Defense and other authorities from our district and other districts, too. We show them that we can handle our group to do an emergency job. In this way, we help other people formulate their Civil Defense plans, and if we can do it, they can, too."

drop or continue the unification study, authorized early this year by the county after a handful of citizens petitioned for the survey.

This was the edict last Thursday night at Jeff High of the augmented committee studying unification of Jefferson High School District and the Jefferson, Laguna Salada, Bayshore and Brisbane elementary districts.

Low attendance at last week's meeting, the second of three called for official reports on unification, appeared to be in keeping with the committee's feelings about changing the district's status quo. By majority vote, the augmented committee ordered each of the five school boards to mull the unification study and then send a delegate to the December 11 evening meeting at Jeff High to vote on either continuing the study or junking it.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD NIXES 'UNIFICATION'

High school trustees Monday night voted 5-0 against continuation of the study on unification of their district with four local elementary districts.

Trustees of the elementary districts also are expected to decide on the fate of the current unification study by next week.

Raymond Whitney, high school trustee from the Coastside, stated that while he was in favor of unification, he believes the study should be made on a county-wide basis so that all districts will benefit the same financially.

The high school board has narrowed the list of 37 suggested names for the two planned Coastside high schools down to eight. Still remaining are these names: Marina, Oceana, Cabrillo, Linda Mar, Pacifica, Terra Nova, E. H. Danman and Pioneer. Two will be selected at the board meeting of December 8.

Under the state education code, the augmented committee is required to hold three public meetings, open to the public, to present the pro's and con's on unification. At the end of these, if the committee decides to submit unification to the people, the move is made for an election, to be decided by majority vote of people.

Dennis, DeBernardi Will Seek Vote By People On Sales Tax . . . But When?

THE folks who supply Daly City consumers are just as anxious as anyone else to get seated for today's traditional eat-fest. Stimulating what they'd like to be doing are Pacific Market manager Ed Binkley and butcherettes Lorraine Faust and Adel Rivers. They've handled hundreds of turkeys this week.

DC's 'Purebred' Owners Fight Dog Ordinance

City councilmen were reminded Monday night that man's best friend is his dog.

A full house greeted the city fathers (two councilmen were absent) with only one purpose in mind: To prevent the city from changing its animal ordinance which, as drafted anew, would limit the number of pets in each DC household to 5. The old ordinance, dating back to the 1930's, allowed 25 pets per household.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi and the two councilmen (Edward Dennis and Frank Pacelli) gave the delegation the "floor," even though the mayor reminded that the council hadn't even had a chance to study the amended animal ordinance.

After brief and well organized speeches by representatives of Daly City's two main purebred dog groups, the three councilmen said they would give "protests" careful consideration.

Attorney Clayton H. Garvey, who handled a similar protest against amending the existing animal ordinance here three years ago represented the DC Dog Owners Group and the Westlake Kennel Club.

North County Meet Here Will Feature Rapid Transit Talk

TOM DRAKE (ONCE AGAIN) IN TROUBLE

Tom Drake, the "bad man" of Daly City's auto row, has run afoul of the law again.

The car salesman was arrested on a DC warrant in Palm Springs last Saturday, charging him with selling cars without a state license. Police Capt. Roy Beecher said Drake's latest caper was uncovered two weeks ago when Garrett Redmond, a Westlake resident, told police that a car sold to him by Drake wasn't quite up to mechanical par.

Redmond said he purchased the car after reading an ad in a SF newspaper. Drake, who doesn't have a license to sell cars anymore, handled the transaction. His partner was a licensed SF auto dealer.

Drake, who lives here at 125 East Moltke, apartment 1, was released on $2000 bail in Palm Springs. He's due before Judge Tom Bocci Jr. in municipal court, South San Francisco, on December 9.

Drake previously was convicted in San Francisco for fraudulent advertising in selling cars. He also faces hearing on a bad check charge, filed by SF cops after Drake took a "gambling" trip to Las Vegas.

Daly City councilmen (only three were presented) Monday evening finally got around to explaining their intentions on sales tax—with three separate opinions resulting.

Councilman Edward Dennis brought up the long-standing measure, claiming that "I still think it's an unjust levy and as I said in my election publicity, I'm out to repeal sales tax as soon as possible."

Dennis reminded the audience that the city's present budget includes sales tax revenues for many projects, therefore even if sales tax were repealed by vote of the people before next July, the levy would have to be kept until then.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi reiterated that he had wanted a referendum (vote of the people) on the tax from the start, but said, "by repealing it now, it would cause economic chaos since several items in the city budget were passed on the basis of sales tax revenues."

In answering Dennis' request for a special election, DeBernardi charged that this step would be "utterly stupid" claiming it would cost $4000 to get the county to authorize such an election here.

The mayor said he prefers that the sales tax vote be placed on the May school election ballot—a move that wouldn't cost the city a cent.

Councilman Francis Pacelli, who with Councilman Joseph Verducci and then-Councilman Del Wilson passed sales tax here last spring, Monday said that there's much talk that the county might adopt a county-wide sales tax.

The council has gone on record before to the effect that should a county-wide sales tax appear imminent, it would adopt modified sales tax ordinances in order to prevent the county from taking all the revenues from Daly City.

City Attorney Paul Hupf said he would like to know soon which course the city would follow.

New Westlake Bowling Alley Ready To Open

Plan are being made for the opening ceremonies next week of Swanson's Westlake Bowl in Westlake Shopping Center.

The program will include local dignitaries who will officially bowl the first ball on each of the 32 lanes. Final details will be published in a few days.

Many applications are being received from the various church, social and fraternal groups who have formed bowling clubs in anticipation of the Bowl opening. In addition, area groups have made arrangement for weekly bowling dates where the housewives of a certain street or neighborhood have arranged car pools to solve the transportation problems in connection with getting to and from the Bowl.

Instruction periods are planned twice daily for those who are taking to the lanes for the first time. In this way, no one need feel embarrassed if he or she had no previous bowling experience. The instruction (Continued on Page 2)

'Hot-rod' Injures Two W'moor Girls

An 18-year-old "hot rod" driver was cited by Daly City police last week after he lost control of his speeding vehicle and struck down two Westmoor High freshman girls who were waiting for a bus in the parking area east of the school.

John V. Simi Jr., who lives at 195 Skyline drive, Westlake, was booked for reckless driving and faulty brakes.

Meredith L. Green, 14, of 631 Manila way, Colma, was still in Junipero Serra Hospital at press time, recovering from head injuries, cuts and bruises. Her companion, Yvette Y. Lamoureux, 15, of 623 Manila way, Colma, was treated for leg abrasions, then released.

Simi said he was waiting for his girl, and not finding her on the east side of the school, he executed a U-turn in the parking lot at high speed. He then lost control of the car and it rammed over the sidewalk, knocking down the two girls.

The car dug a heavy "trench" in the lawn north of the school.

Simi, according to the police report, is not a student at Westmoor.

OFFICER Dave Johnstone points to the spot where two Westmoor High girls were run down last week by an 18-year-old youth who lost control of his "hot-rod." The boy was cited for reckless driving and faulty brakes.

North County Confab Reveals Crocker Plans

Daly City representatives at last Thursday's lengthy North County confab here didn't learn anything that was entirely new to them, but their ears were well tuned when a spokesman for Crocker Estate took the podium.

Addressing about 200 civic and business leaders from Millbrae north to here, William F. Morton, general manager of the Crocker lands, declared that the vast tract was "on the verge of development."

Daly City fathers have been quietly pushing for negotiations with the Crocker company. The idea would be to annex areas of the Crocker lands on a piecemeal basis, tax-hungry Daly City getting the taxes from industries which are eager to set up operations in the Crocker area.

The Urban Land Development Institute is studying Crocker's plans for development, with some sort of concrete announcement due by the first of next year.

The hilly Crocker tract, about 13 percent the size of San Francisco, is master-planned, Morton said, for 250 acres of industrial development (over a five-to-15-year span) in the Guadalupe Valley. Next would be a 400-acre development through the high-level gap that separates Guadalupe Valley and Colma Creek. The steeper portions of the estate are master-planned mostly for residential development.

2 Councilmen Eye Referendum On Sales Tax

take on sales tax in order that he could take preliminary legal steps. The council must ask County Clerk John Bruning either to set up a special election or place the issue on the May school election ballot.

DeBernardi said the decision depended on the full council. Councilmen Bob St. Clair and Joseph Verducci were absent Monday night.

Most of the speakers on development at last week's day-long conclave urged leaders in the north county to "plan ahead," thus eliminating problems that would result from a "wait and see" attitude.

Frank Skillman, county planning director, stressed the "pressure of growth" in the north county. He said the north end today has 140,000 residents. By 1970 there will be 230,000 and by 1990 about 265,000.

In citing the need for rapid transit, Skillman said that without this form of transportation five more eight-lane freeways would be needed within the next 30 years. The right-of-way required for these highways alone would deprive the county of land valued at $50 million, he warned.

The conference was called by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, the County Development Association, and the County Advisory Planning Council.

course for beginners will start with movies giving the history of bowling and explaining the various terms and equipment. Marge Brown and Rosemarie Owens, both experienced bowlers and instructors, will conduct the instruction periods which will commence during the first week of December.

So that mothers need not worry about the children while bowling, the "Toddlers Lane," a supervised playroom for the kiddies will be open from 9 to 4 daily. Mrs. Fay Adams, group supervisor for the city of San Francisco for over 10 years, will be in charge of the children, who will be provided with their own television set, as well as toys, games and cribs. This free service is offered by the Bowl to again emphasize the fact that bowling is a sport for the entire family.

Any information concerning the Bowl may be obtained by calling PL 6-5777.

North County Leading In Crusade $

With the United Crusade residential division of North San Mateo county leading all other divisions in attaining their goal, spirits are high and hearts are thankful that this community has been generous in their response.

The 100 per cent goal has not been reached, but it is hoped that those who have not contributed will mail in their pledges and donations to the United Crusade Office in San Mateo or to Mrs. Jack Hurt, 71 Fairmount drive, Daly City.

As Daly City-Colma residential chairman, Mrs. Hurt today expressed sincere appreciation to the 500 volunteers in the Daly City, Colma, Garden Village and Broadmoor areas, and further said, "Your willingness to give your time and energy to better your community is what made this United Crusade drive a success. Special recognition should be given the area, section and neighborhood chairmen for giving more than their share of effort. Let us remember that our community needs our support next year, too."

by these untrained mongrels can be prosecuted by law," Garvey went on. "But why discriminate against the people who are maintaining their pets in the best manner possible," he asked.

Dennis, who introduced the city leash law in 1953, said that he was satisfied with the purebred owners' reasons for opposing the ordinance and that he would go along with their ideas. Pacelli seconded this opinion, and asked that representatives of both dog groups meet with the full council to see what could be worked out.

City Attorney Paul Hupf confirmed DeBernardi's statement that the amended ordinance was merely in the rough draft stage and that the council hadn't had sufficient time to study its full implications. Hupf said that in drafting the animal ordinance (which includes the dog leash law) he had studied similar ordinances on the Peninsula and San Francisco.

Hupf said the dog ordinance was part of the codification move on all city ordinances, and was being presented at this time to be consistent with the county's request for uniform animal law enforcement. Daly City has its animal pound service handled by the county and is negotiating for a county-operated shelter. South San Francisco and Pacifica also will share this project.

Athletic commitments caused the absence of two councilmen Monday night. Bob St. Clair is back East with the 49ers and Joseph Verducci was attending a banquet honoring his Far Western Conference football champs at San Francisco State College.

Millbrae Motorist Is Arrested Here After Office Party

Too many drinks at a company party caused the arrest of a Millbrae motorist at the Skyline-Westridge intersection in Westlake last Saturday about 12:15 a.m.

Officer Phil LaBruzzo booked Percy R. Coleman, 51, a clerk, for drunk driving after the latter failed to take a roadside sobriety test and then failed a hospital sobriety check. LaBruzzo said he followed Coleman's weaving coupe from Alameda and Skyline up to Westridge, where he forced the Millbrae man to the curb after using the patrol car's siren and red light.

Coleman admitted he had "one too many" at an office party. Released on $500 bond, he is scheduled to appear next Thurs in municipal court.

ple in the districts involved.

Freiberg contends that the committee, in general, has a "pre-conceived idea against unification." "All we ask," said Freiberg, "is that the study be continued so that the public will be able to weigh the facts."

Both Bayshore and Brisbane school board members appear against unification. There has been no official expression on the part of the Laguna Salada and Jefferson elementary boards or the high school district.

Mrs. Katherine Mullen, member of the Jeff Elementary board, is a member of the County Committee On School District Organization. The latter board forms the nucleus of the local unification committee. Other members are trustees of all five districts.

Thomas Noonan, first-term trustee on Jefferson Elementary school board, was one of the citizens last spring who urged the petition drive for a unification study, according to Freiberg.

The December 11 meeting of the augmented committee should be a "crossroads" session. If a majority of the school board delegates are against continuing the study, it will be dropped.

Local G-Scout Delegates Back From Convention

Mrs. Zella Henise of Daly City and Mrs. Harriet Hagerman of Colma, who headed this community's delegation to the two-day Regional Conference at Sacramento, returned home today and reported on the conference proceedings.

The conference, Mrs. Henise said, was attended by approximately 1500 Girl Scout adults and Senior Scouts from Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah, Hawaiian Islands, Guam and Midway.

Among the major topics discussed at the conference were the need for more Girl Scout volunteers to serve as troop leaders and to take on other "behind-the-scenes" jobs in Girl Scouting and ways to improve the Girl Scout program so that it will provide more opportunities and challenges for girls.

In addition to Mrs. Henise and Mrs. Hagerman, also representing the Girl Scouts from this area at the conference was Mrs. Eve Liberato.

Pack 343 Moms 'Steal The Show' At Recent Meet

Den Mothers of Pack 343 stole the show at the Pack's November monthly meeting at Westlake Clubhouse. Four new den mothers — Jane Noryko, Jackie Eichelberger, Muriel Eastman, and Betty Dvorsky, were inaugurated into the pack and given den mother badges.

Seven den mothers, some retiring and some staying on with their particular groups, were given silver charm bracelets in honor of one year's strenuous but rewarding service with their boys. Their names: Peggy Ednoff, Yvonne Steinfeld, Beverly Ellingson, Jane Clay, Mathilde Sordia, Macia Smith, and Miriam Swett.

A ceremony inducting seven new boys (Al Danielson, Geoffrey Becker, Gary Bertelsen, Jerry Perkins, Marc Rubin, Steve Zago, and Tom Sessa) was followed by an ingenious skit by Den 3. Cubs, decked out in cardboard signs to represent the Sun, Moon, and Earth, were slightly confounded by the appearance of an energetic Scout disguised as a rocket, who buzzed about them.

Several boys received awards, and the meeting closed with a ceremony by Den 5 which portrayed symbolically four things vitally necessary to good Americanism: the Bible, the flag, the school, and scouting.

Ask Volunteers In Dystrophy 'March' Here

Volunteers to aid in preparatory work for the "March of Mothers" door-to-door solicitation campaign on behalf of Muscular Dystrophy on December 2, are urgently sought now, by Headquarters for the San Francisco Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, 2857 San Bruno avenue, San Francisco, JU 6-3808.

San Francisco's volunteer marchers will be joining hundreds of thousands of others throughout the nation. Comedian Jerry Lewis, MDA's national chairman, requests 700,000 "marchers" in 2500 communities to march this year to rally their neighbors for the fight against muscular dystrophy, the crippling, muscle-wasting disease which has afflicted over 200,000 Americans.

Research is still the main objective, and this national, non-profit organization has already allocated $2,050,758 to its national and international research program for the current fiscal year.

James A. Farley, former United States Postmaster General, is honorary national chairman of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, and Mrs. Lou Gehrig, widow of the famous baseball star whose untimely death as a result of muscular dystrophy was headline news a few years ago, is national campaign chairman.

Victims face years of crippling disability and premature death from this mystery disease. Two-thirds of the victims are children.

EMERGENCY EXIT

Fire Chief's Talk To Snell PTA Goes Up In Smoke (Well, Almost)

By Bunny Gillespie

Horns and sirens heralding an unscheduled call to duty provided a dramatic climax to Frank M. Specht's remarks on home fire prevention Tuesday evening last week as he addressed the James L. Snell PTA unit meeting.

The Daly City Fire Department's battalion chief, attached to the fire prevention bureau, was bringing his brief commentary on home hazards and pyrotechnic pitfalls to conclusion as the DCFD's warning system sounded in the night. Under obvious duress, Chief Specht bid his audience a polite but hasty farewell, leaped off the auditorium's middle aisle—grabbing his hat on the way.

His exit was accompanied by encouraging shouts and applause from Snell attendees and the wail of the siren from his waiting DCFD vehicle. (Editor's note: The fire alert turned out to be a false alarm!)

In his presentation, Specht explained the voluntary home inspection currently being conducted throughout Daly City and for the benefit of those present who were not included in that jurisdiction he outlined the points that homeowners could check for their own home safety and protection. Among these were faulty wiring, poorly stored flammable liquids, ill-protected oil mops or rags, dangerous collections of garbage, etc.

Chief Specht shared the billing at the PTA function with the Jefferson Elementary School District's co-ordinator of health, Mrs. Helen Delafield. She was introduced by Mrs.

Westmoor High Science Club Visits Seaside

Enterprising students of Westmoor High School's Science Club went directly to the source—Mother Nature, to obtain the needed material for study in their laboratory.

The Fault Lake area, near Sharp Park, proved to be rich in specimens: a live mole, pond water, frogs and newts, and various forms of plant life along with a variety of pond insects.

According to reports by the students, other results of the trip were a half-drowned club president, and the unintentional baptizing of a camera. Such minor mishaps will not prevent the students making four more

Tribe Dumps Mateans For First Win, 19-14

Senior Jeff High quarterback Jerry Kennedy tossed two scoring passes Friday to pace Joe McGrath's Indian gridders to a 19-14 triumph over winless San Mateo—Jeff's first victory this year after seven straight losses.

The Tribe entered Wednesday night's South City traditional in sixth place with a 1-4 Peninsula League record and 1-7 for the campaign. South City, blanked 20-0 by Burlingame last week, was 2-3 going into the loop finale.

Two touchdowns in the first quarter paved Jeff's win over the stubborn Mateans Friday down south. Pete Garcia, the best all-around ball player in the league, got the first six points on a five-yard smash off tackle. A few minutes later, Kennedy connected to his favorite target, right end Vic Lewkowitz, the play covering 77 yards and making it 12-0.

San Mateo hit the scoreboard just before the halftime on Fred Wakeda's 71-yard punt runback. Kennedy made it 18-7 when he lofted a 21-yard aerial to sprinting John Margaroni, much-injured Jeff half-back. Garcia toed the extra point.

Cady, Not Coder, Is The Coach We Had In Mind

The buzz of deadline time last week brought a regrettable error on this page of THE RECORD.

Jefferson High's cross-country coach, cited for turning in a "superb job" his first year at the helm, is Norm Cady, a Jeff and San Francisco State College graduate.

Don Coder, listed instead of Cady, coached the Indian cross-country squads last year—not this season.

Pete Garcia Guest On Radio Show

Jefferson High's Pete Garcia, called by his coach "the greatest player I have ever had," will be the special guest of Sportscenter Warren Wyncoop this Saturday morning on the "Sportscoop" radio program, station KIBE (1220) on the dial at 11 a.m.

Garcia, an All-Peninsula choice last year as a junior end, is due for repeat honors this season as a halfback.

He is regarded as one of the best football products in the history of the Peninsula.

Wyncoop will also give highlights of the Turkey Day games involving Peninsula League rivals and a preview of the basketball campaign.

Westmoor 11 Lose Finale To Cap, 41-7

Westmoor High School's varsity gridders ended their season here Friday on a short end of a 41-7 verdict against hard-hitting Capuchino of San Bruno.

Behind 13-0 at halftime, the Rams were outscored in the last two periods, 28-7.

The loss gave Westmoor a 2-4 league mark and a 2-7 record for their second season of varsity football.

The only Ram tally came in the final quarter when QB Dave Sipons plunged over from a yard out. Tom McHugh ran for the extra point.

A YEAR ago, Daly City's Larry Harper was playing fullback for the Westmoor High football varsity. He's now carrying the ball for the U. S. Marines, having recently completed basic training.

City's biggest margin was a 50-0 rout in 1924. Jeff hit its high against the Warriors in 1953, winning 40-6. Last season, McGrath's huskies out-fought their hosts from the Industrial City, 20-19.

Mossi, DC Product, Traded To Detroit

Don Mossi, Daly City's lone contribution to big league baseball, last week was traded to the Detroit Tigers in a five-man swap that left him "completely satisfied."

The 29-year-old pitcher, a five-year mainstay for the Cleveland Indians, was sent to Detroit along with co-relief ace Ray Narleski and infielder Ossie Alvarez. Cleveland, in turn, got ex-Yankee infield captain Billy Martin and hurler Al Ciootte.

Mossi, an all-sports ace at Jefferson High, was long interested in leaving the Cleveland organization.

Said Don to this newspaper: "I think Detroit is a young and promising ball club. I was very pleased to hear of the trade."

Mossi, who got his start playing sandlot and semi-pro ball through Joe Sart, veteran Daly City sports promoter, lives with his family in Redwood City.

The 6-1, 190-pound pitcher spent five years in the minors before joining Cleveland in 1954.

Orlich's Cagers Finish Second In Both Loops

Jefferson's lightweight cagers nailed down second place finishes in the Peninsula League campaign last week by two-timing South City.

Mike Orlich's 20's, led by Mike Schultz with 28 points, downed the Warriors, 69-51. The win gave the locals a 10-4 record.

The Indian 10's, with Bobo Johanson hitting for 12 points, swamped the SSF five, 35-19. This gave the Jeff 10's an 11-3 mark.

Chairman Urges Prompt Response On Xmas Seals

In urging local residents to make a prompt reply to their Christmas Seal letter, Martin Orloff, Daly City and Colma Seal Sale chairman, today declared:

"This oldest of public health fund drives is also one of the least demanding. The TB association asks for just a small donation, and in return offers colorful stamps which bring a touch of Christmas joy to every letter or package sent out by the user."

Orloff added that funds from the sale of Christmas Seals finance free chest X-rays, health education services to TB victims, and medical research.

"Christmas Seals have saved eight million lives in the last half century," Orloff said. "Buying the little stamps serves a humanitarian cause at an appropriate time of the year."
